14 Americans Killed as Plane Hits 3 Houses

Crash Hurls 8,000
Gallons Gasoline
Over the Homes

PARIS (UP)—An Italian airliner en route from Paris to New York crashed in flames near Orly Field early today, killing all but two of the 35 persons aboard, including 14 Americans.

Two badly burned Italians, the only survivors, fought for their lives at a hospital.

Famed orchestra conductor Guido Cantelli, who had been scheduled to conduct the New York Philharmonic Orchestra next Thursday, was aboard the plane and was feared among the dead.

An announcement in Milan, Italy, home of the La Scala Opera orchestra said Cantelli was killed. The new, four-engine DC6B of the Italian Airlines Co. (LAI), in service only since Nov. 5, struck the roof of a house as it was taking off from Orly Field and plunged into two others 1.8 miles south of the airfield.

Houses Destroyed

The crash hurled a flaming arc of 8,000 gallons of high octane gasoline over the three houses and burned them to the ground. The impact dashed three occupants of one house into the cellar, injuring one.

The plane landed in Paris to pick up two passengers and took off at 12:40 a. m. for a scheduled stop at Shannon, Ireland. The crash occurred a few seconds later. Some witnesses said one engine appeared to explode before the plane crashed.

Italian Airlines in New York listed 14 Americans, 10 Italians, one Turk and a crew of 10 persons aboard.

The Americans, whose home towns were not immediately available, were listed as Elaine Banfi, Pietro Bracchi, Roy Cox, Nicholas De Leo, Anthony De Leo, Betty Green, Mildred Kaldor, Olga Merrina, Sarah Merrina, Antoinette Merrina, Marjorie Paris, Vivian Shetz, Carol Shetz and Gilberto Splendito.

Paris authorities said Bracchi was a 33-year old American missionary priest attached to the Holy Ghost Parish of Providence, R. I. He had been engaged in relief work since winning a degree in sociology at Harvard University.

Accent is On Youth in Judging At World's Largest Stock Show

CHICAGO (UP)—The accent remained on youth at the 57th International Livestock Exposition as the world's largest stock show entered its second day today.

The National 4-H livestock judging began Friday with high school boys and girls competing for agricultural college scholarships offered by the Chicago Association of Commerce and Armour and Co.

Today judging got under way in the junior livestock feeding contest for youths 12-20 years of age.

The junior grand champion steer automatically becomes eligible for the finals in the top judging of the show—selection of the 1956 national grand champion steer.

A. D. Weber, dean of agriculture at Kansas State College, judged the more than 300 baby beefs shown by youths of 12 states competing for the junior prize.

Weber also will select the national champion on Tuesday.

Students Judge Stock
Clifford Breeden, herdsman of the college farm at Purdue University, was named judge of the junior hog competition. Juniors have listed 65 hogs, the champion to meet the best adult for the grand champion hog title later in the show.

Among other events on tap today was the collegiate livestock judging contest. Teams of students from the United States and Canada showed their skill by competing against one another in judging livestock.

Among the survivors of Friday's 4-H judging was Nancy Turner, 17, of Chicago, Ill. Nancy won last year's grand championship with an Aberdeen Angus named Julius. Her entry this year is "H. J."

Boy Freezes to Death in Woods

MUNISING, Mich. (UP)—A 9-year-old boy's trip into the woods to help his uncle bring out a deer ended in tragedy when the lad froze to death after they became lost in a snowstorm.

Searchers Friday found Emil Mannisto 59, propper against a tree, exhausted and incoherent. The body of his nephew, Charles Mannisto, was found a half mile away, buried in snow.

Mannisto later recalled that he had carried the boy in his arms Thursday, wandering aimlessly through the snow in search of shelter. Near nightfall when the boy became "limp," Mannisto said he put him down and walked on alone.

Mannisto earlier had shot a deer to get a rope to drag the deer home because his own rope had broken. He said the boy begged to go along to help get the deer. A sudden blizzard trapped them for the night in the woods and they became lost.

Mannisto, suffering from frostbite, was brought to Munising hospital. His condition was said to be not serious.

Reds to Free Arlie Pate, 25, Turncoat GI

Carbondale Man,
Will Be Home
For Christmas

CARBONDALE, Ill. — The parents of 25-year-old Arlie Pate expressed almost hysterical joy Friday night when they were informed that their son would be released by the Chinese Communists in time to be home by Christmas.

China advised the United States late Friday it is releasing two more of the 21 American "turncoat" GIs who refused to return home after the Korean War.

The two are Pate, 25, of Carbondale, and Aaron Wilson, 24, of Urenaia, Ala.

A message from the Chinese Red Cross said they will be released to American authorities at Hong Kong Dec. 2.

Mrs. Mary Parrish, a Carbondale resident, drove three miles to their farm house to tell Mr. and Mrs. Howard Pate of the good news, which was relayed first to them by International News Service. The Pates have no telephone.

Mrs. Pate, the mother of nine children, said:

"The news sounds almost too good to be true. We got our last letter from Arlie about three weeks ago. He wrote that he was in good health and was being well treated but that he missed us all. He was homesick."

Reported Missing in 1950

Mrs. Pate was driven to the Parrish home in a relative's car to hear the good news in person.

She said her son was reported missing Dec. 2, 1950, during the Korean War. The family first heard that he was alive and a prisoner of war in October, 1951.

Mrs. Pate recalled that in October, 1953, she and her husband made a tape recording, appealing for him to return home, which later was flown to Japan for broadcast to the Chinese area.

Arlie's father, Howard, who operates a 62-acre farm, said:

"This is his home and he always will be welcome here."

Mrs. Pate said her son had attended high school in Carbondale and added:

"But he was just a boy when he went to Korea. There was a lot he did not understand."

"We don't know what our plans are to meet him and greet him. We'll have to learn more details before we can make arrangements."

"But we know this will be the happiest Christmas of our lives."

Sir Anthony Eden

R. A. Butler

Report Nagy Taken to Moscow to Stand Trial

Yugoslavia is Expected to Make Strong Protest

VIENNA (UP)—Former Hungarian Premier Imre Nagy, kidnapped by the Russians as he left the Yugoslav embassy in Budapest, today was reported to have been spirited to Moscow to stand trial for high treason.

The report was published in the West German newspaper Nacht Deutsche and attributed to Hungarian embassy circles in East Berlin.

It generally was accepted here as a logical development in the series of disasters which have befallen Nagy, the one-time Titoist leader who twice in the month-long history of the Hungarian revolt has been double-crossed by the Russians.

Yugoslavia was expected to protest strongly against the Russian action which also could touch off another explosion inside Hungary itself.

Strains Yugoslav-Soviet Relations
According to the newspaper, Nagy was hustled off to Romania after rejecting a Soviet demand to broadcast a denunciation of still-resisting Hungarian rebels. It said he was driven to Arad, Romania, in the automobile of the Romanian ambassador and flown to Moscow in a Soviet plane.

The newspaper said the Russians forced Nagy to sign a document requesting permission to leave Hungary for asylum in a people's democracy—Communist terminology for the satellites.

Reports from Belgrade, Yugoslavia, said the Soviet disregard of a safe-conduct pledge for Nagy obtained by Yugoslav diplomats before he left the Yugoslav Embassy in Budapest put a new strain on the deteriorating Yugoslav-Soviet relations.

The reports said there were clear indications that Marshal Tito's government regarded the abduction of Nagy as a serious breach of international law.

Nagy and some 40 other Hungarians were granted asylum in the Yugoslav Embassy in Budapest when the Soviet armored forces launched their new offensive on Nov. 4. They left the embassy Wednesday night, ostensibly for home, but never arrived.

Budapest Radio made no mention of the Yugoslav charges that Nagy and his colleagues were taken at gunpoint by the Russians when they stepped out of the Yugoslav embassy in Budapest Wednesday night.

United Press Staff Correspondent Russell Jones reported from Budapest that observers feared the Nagy incident would touch off a new outburst of anti-Russian fighting.

Liz Taylor and Producer on Luxury Cruise

NASSAU, Bahama, B.W.I. (UP)—Actress Elizabeth Taylor and producer Michael Todd interrupted their luxury yacht cruise of southern waters today for a stopover at this picturesque British colony.

They were to be entertained by Lord Beaverbrook, English newspaper tycoon, who owns a home here.

Miss Taylor has been accompanying Todd since she filed for divorce against her husband, actor Michael Wilding, in California more than a week ago. It will take a year for the divorce to become final.

The couple plan to resume cruising in the luxurious 102-foot yacht, Vagabondia III, for the next few days. Todd said he will return to New York early next week.

Orders Brownell To File Petition In Federal Court

Acts Immediately
After Receiving
Fact Panel Report

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower directed the attorney general today to seek an 80-day injunction halting the 9-day-old Atlantic and Gulf Coast dock strike.

The White House said Asst. Atty. Gen. George Doub would file the government's petition in Federal Court in New York City at noon.

The President acted immediately after receiving a 50-page report on the dispute from his special fact-finding panel.

He said in a four-paragraph letter to Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell Jr. that the walkout, if permitted to continue, "will imperil the national health and safety."

Pinpoints Major Issue
He directed Brownell "to petition in the name of the United States in any district court of the United States having jurisdiction of the parties to enjoin the continuance of such strike."

The three-man fact finding panel said the issue of a coast-wide contract between striking longshoremen and shipping companies was the major issue in the dispute.

"The continuation of this issue as an unsettled matter," it said, "is preventing the completion of collective bargaining contracts in all ports."

A court order issued Wednesday bans the union temporarily from pressing this point. But the union's interest in the matter has not subsided.

The board listed 12 other "major issues" in the paralyzing dispute. It led the list with industry-wide bargaining, followed by wages and terms of contract.

Asked 32-Cent Boost
It said the IILA has asked for a 32-cent hourly pay increase for a two-year contract. The shipping companies, in turn, have suggested spreading the 32 cents over three years, it said.

"The union has not wholly rejected the three-year agreement, but states that it will accept it only on condition that the employers agree to some form of industry-wide bargaining," the panel said.

The shippers, the panel said, have "completely rejected" the union position, and their last wage offer for two years was a 20-cent boost.

It was the third time President Eisenhower has invoked the national emergency provisions of the Taft-Hartley labor law.

He used the law against the 1953 dock strike and again in 1954 against a strike of atomic energy workers at Paducah, Ky., and Oak Ridge, Tenn.

Officials hoped to get the silent waterfront humming again by Monday.

Funeral Services Sunday 2 p. m. for Mrs. R. G. Bond

Funeral services will be held Sunday at 2 p. m. at the First Baptist church for Mrs. Mae Bond who died Thursday afternoon in San Diego, Calif., where she had made her home for the past five or six years. She was the widow of Dr. R. G. Bond who practiced as a physician and surgeon in Harrisburg from early in his career until his death in 1949.

Rev. T. Leo Dodd will officiate, assisted by the Rev. R. J. Morgan, and interment will be in the family mausoleum in Sunset Hill cemetery.

The body will lie in state in the chapel of the Harrisburg funeral home.

Timely Warning

Editorial — BY BRUCE BLOSSAT

It seems almost inconceivable that the Soviet Union would consider involving itself so heavily in the Middle East as to risk World War III.

For all their global ambitions, the Kremlin leaders recognize the colossal ruin that would attend an all-out nuclear war between East and West. Furthermore, they must understand that they could not count on the decisive advantage in such a combat.

The brilliant Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, retiring as NATO commander, has issued a timely warning on this score.

In his final news conference as commander, Gruenther flatly declared that the Soviet Union and its allies would be destroyed if Moscow should be rash enough to attack the West.

His warning clearly was intended to be read in a broader context than simply the Middle East. Soviet spokesmen recently have been dropping menacing hints about the use of missile warfare against Western Europe. Obviously any such assault would immediately bring the NATO defense pact into full play.

Coming from Gruenther, this stern answer to Kremlin threats can be read soberly in all the capitals of the world. He is no saber-rattler, no brandisher of bombs. He is as thoroughly dedicated to peace as is his old chief, President Eisenhower.

This was his and America's way of notifying Moscow that it should not mistake Anglo-French-American differences over Suez as proof that NATO is crumbling. On the vital matter of resisting Russian aggression against Europe, the Big Three are as united today as ever.

Gruenther's words were plain. Manifestly he expects them to be heeded in Moscow. Said the general: "No nation is going to press that button (launching missile warfare) if it means national suicide. That is just what it would mean."

Though Gruenther has been a superb NATO commander, his retirement cannot fairly be taken as fresh sign of NATO's waning power and prestige. His successor, Gen. Lauris Norstad of the U. S. Air Force, is a tremendously capable officer who should carry on notably in the Eisenhower-Ridgway-Gruenther tradition.

Whether the name be Gruenther or Norstad or whatever, American leadership in NATO is a continuing and deeply meaningful symbol of the West's determination to keep the tide of Russian communism held back from free peoples.

Russia has been put no notice to take a long, hard look at that symbol before it ventures too deeply beyond its borders.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says: Negro Congressman Poses Problem To Justice Department; Ike's Pastor Compares Zionist Groups To German-American Bund; Hungarian Refugees Enter U. S. A. In Dribbles.

WASHINGTON. — The Justice Department, which was investigating Negro Congressman Adam Clayton Powell's income-tax returns until he suddenly came out for the Eisenhower-Nixon ticket, is now debating whether to go ahead with the investigation.

The U. S. attorney's office in New York City, which has already convicted two of Powell's secretaries and indicted a third, wants to press the case against the congressman. However, there are indications that the Justice Department planned to drop the case in return for Powell's campaigning for the Republicans.

It is known that Powell has talked frequently to Vice President Nixon about his tax troubles. A Justice Department spokesman, however, denied to this column that any promise was given to fix the case.

T-men have been investigating Powell's curious financial arrangements with his employees, who work for him both as congressional employees and as assistants in his Abyssinian Baptist church in Harlem.

T-men also are checking Powell's stock-market speculation. He has made a handsome profit recently on lithium, a lightweight ore used for defense purposes. A cable from his Washington broker, for example, was delivered to him in Yugoslavia via the American embassy during his recent European junket.

The cable reported: "Your profit lithium $800 to date. Strongly recommend additional $2,000 at 15 cents. Believe would double or better."

It was signed by Shannon Allen, a partner in Landrum, Allen & Co. brokerage firm.

It will be interesting to see what the Justice Department does about the influential Negro congressman from Harlem.

Called — Congressman Powell noted at the White House last week to request jobs for his friends. The Democrats on Capitol Hill have just fired his friends from jobs because Powell is no longer considered a Democrat, so he asked the White House to help him out with some other jobs. As a result the Republicans will now give the Harlem congressman other jobs to replace those which the Democrats took away.

IKE'S PASTOR

President Eisenhower's pastor, the Rev. Edward L. R. Elson, has written an interesting letter comparing Jewish Zionist organizations with the German-American Bund that supported Hitler before World War II.

Curiously, the purpose of Rev. Elson's letter was to declare he was neither anti-Jewish nor anti-Israel.

Some Jews had been disturbed by the fact that the President's spiritual adviser was national chairman of the American Friends of the Middle East. This happens to be an anti-Zionist, pro-Arab organization.

Finally a Chicago housewife, Mrs. Alfred Loewenthal, wrote directly to Rev. Elson to inquire about his influence upon the President. The famous Presbyterian minister replied: "My relations with the President are of a pastoral and spiritual nature, and I am not a political consultant."

In this connection, White House aides say that Rev. Elson telephones the White House so frequently that he's a "nuisance."

Rev. Elson also wrote: "Many of my closest friends are observant Jews for whom I have utmost appreciation."

"Nor am I anti-Israel," he added. "Although its creation was a diplomatic debacle, Israel is here and must be regarded as a valid entity among the nations. I am not now nor have I ever been anti-Israel, but I am desperately and earnestly pro-American in the highest and most refined sense of that word. Political Zionism, it seems to me, does violence to that concept. The so-called German-American Bund was out of place in American life. In our American political life, similarly, Zionist American organizations are out of place. Judaism is a great faith and the Jews a great people, and these concepts should be clearly separated from political Zionism."

HUNGARIAN FREEDOM FIGHTERS

Despite the fine gesture of the State Department and the White House to admit Hungarian refugees, what most people don't know is that the United States has been extremely slow in processing them for arrival in this country.

As of Wednesday, November 21, only 60 refugees had arrived in the United States, and although approximately 360 were due during the remainder of the week, this is a mere dribble compared with the numbers Europe is absorbing.

Little Switzerland has already absorbed 2,567 refugees, Belgium, 1,875, the tiny Netherlands 1,359, Germany 716.

The American people have rallied with all sorts of offers of assistance. A total of 1055 letters has reached the State Department, offering jobs, housing, educational assistance, and business loans to the freedom fighters of Hungary. There have also been 487 telegrams to the State Department plus 235 phone calls as of the middle of this week.

This is enough to care for some 3,500 refugees, and does not include offers made by American citizens direct to church and voluntary agencies.

In contrast to this sympathetic response from the American people, the American government as of this writing has agreed to accept only 5,000 refugees. Belgium, on the other hand, is taking 4,000; the United Kingdom 2,500; The Netherlands 2,000; Germany 3,000; Switzerland 4,000; Colombia 1,000.

Congressman Francis Walter of Pennsylvania, who has not been too enthusiastic about immigration in the past, wants the U. S. quota for Hungarian freedom fighters raised to 17,500. Even more amazing is Senator Eastland of Mississippi, who has privately expressed the opinion that we should give refuge to 25,000.

As a result of Eastland's and Walter's nudging the original White House figure will go up to 10,000.

Winchell to Quit TV Show

NEW YORK. — Walter Winchell and his TV variety show have parted.

The Broadway columnist has announced that his sponsors will not pick up his option when his current contract runs out in six weeks.

Winchell, who will receive some $75,000 in severance pay, launched the NBC-TV show on Oct. 5. It has featured such top performers as Perry Como, Sammy Davis Jr. and Martha Raye, but rating-wise has not quite lived up to expectations.

Its latest Nielsen rating (20.1) shows it splitting audiences about evenly with ABC-TV's "Crossroads" (21-2) and CBS-TV's "Zane Grey Theatre" (20.1).

Winchell said he was relieved at giving up the arduous details of the TV show which pays him less than he receives for a shorter newscast.

RALLY SUNDAY

An old fashioned holiness rally will be held at Dorris Heights Methodist church Sunday at 2:30 p. m. B. K. Batey will be the speaker. R. S. Beck is pastor.

Film, 'Dead Men On Furlough,' at McKinley Avenue Baptist Monday

A film, "Dead Men On Furlough," which reveals the basic conflict between Communism and Christianity, will be shown Monday, Nov. 26, at 7 p. m. at the McKinley Avenue Baptist church.

The picture, the latest production of Dr. Bob Pierce, is a true, heart-touching story of a Korean martyr and his family, whose identity are withheld in order to protect them from Communist retaliation. The film, 40 minutes in length, will be shown to the public free of charge.

OUT OUR WAY

Att'y Browning Spends Hour With Grand Jury

CHICAGO (UP)—J. Roy Browning, attorney and one-time associate of Alvin Karpis, was before the grand jury Friday after clearing himself of a possible contempt charge.

What he told the jurors was not disclosed. It had been announced earlier that he was wanted for questioning about two checks totaling $15,000 issued to him by the Southmoor Bank and Trust Co.

Earlier in the day he had appeared before Federal District Judge Philip L. Sullivan to clear himself on the contempt charge. He told the judge that he had no intention of disobeying the process of the court but he had been "in no condition to testify" when he was ordered before the jury Tuesday.

Browning said he had recently undergone two operations for cancer of the throat and his voice had completely failed him.

He added that he had been hounded by newspapermen so he went into seclusion.

The judge dismissed charges that had been instituted when he failed to appear earlier.

The checks in question, one for $5,000 and one for $10,000, were made out to Browning by the Southmoor Bank and listed as legal expenses.

Browning listed only the $5,000 check as income and said he passed the other on to other people whom he refused to identify.

He is also being investigated by the Securities Exchange Commission and a Sangamon County grand jury in Springfield for activities in connection with the Hodge case.

Wintry Air Covers Large Part of Nation

By United Press

A mass of wintry air continued to clasp a large chunk of the nation in its frosty embrace today.

Practically the entire Eastern half of the country shivered as it dug out from an uncomfortable blanket of snow. Although the storm, which dumped large quantities of snow on a swath of land from Colorado to the East Coast, appeared to be dying out, residents of Erie, Pa., were suffering the after-effects by the worst snowstorm in ten years.

Chicago was sprinkled Friday by a freak snowstorm that left a six-inch coating on the city's South Side, but barely stroked the northern end. Much of the snow hardened with an icy coating in the midst of a sudden cold front which swept the mercury down to 10 degrees above zero.

More snow was expected over the Great Lakes area today, but New England was also to be the recipient of flurries. New Mexico and Arizona had forecasts of light snow.

Colder air accompanied the snow into the lakes regions, but the Northern Plains warmed up today, as did the upper and middle Mississippi Valley. The chilly air extended through the Ohio Valley, down into the Carolinas and Georgia.

The Erie snowfall, which piled up from two to three feet on the ground, caused Mayor Arthur Gardner to declare a state of emergency for the city. Rescue workers, aided by helicopters and National Guard tanks, dislodged victims and cleared paths along blanketed roads.

Other freak snow falls piled up one to two feet near lakes Erie and Ontario. Carthage, N. Y., squirmed under a 40-inch load dumped Friday.

Two Missing, 15 Hurt in Blast

DALLAS Tex. (UP)—An explosion that shook howl two miles away set off a five-alarm fire in a feed mill grain elevator today, injuring at least 15 men.

Two of the workers, J. T. Busby, 42, and Billy Joe Sargent, 16, were listed as critically burned, and doctors at Parkland Hospital said they feared for the life of Busby.

Two other men were listed as missing.

Three of the injured, including R. L. Powell, a foreman at the plant, were released after receiving emergency treatment and one man refused treatment at the hospital.

The blast occurred in an elevator at the Sunny South Feed Mills in northwest Dallas, about 4 miles from the downtown area.

Among the 11 men kept in the hospital were two Katy Railroad switchmen who were working in the vicinity when the explosion occurred.

One Dead, Nine Hurt in Collision

WENTZVILLE, Mo. (UP)—A head-on collision of two cars Friday killed one person and injured nine 8 miles south of here.

Harry P. Clancy, 37, Bethel, Kan., was killed. His wife, Rosemary, 34, and 5-year-old son, Rodney, were severely injured. Two other children, Janice, 12, and Susan, 11 months, suffered bruises and shock.

Injured in the second car were five members of a Dupo, Ill., family. Mr. and Mrs. John Tennill, Raymond L. Tennill, 21, the driver; David, 15, and Lonnie, 20.

Missouri state troopers said the Clancy car apparently attempted to pass going over a hill in a no-passing zone. Both cars swerved to the shoulder and crashed head-on.

Missionary Medicine Film on WSIL Tuesday

"Monganga," the story of missionary medicine, will be shown Tuesday, Nov. 27, at 8:30 p. m. on WSIL-TV.

This hour-long film is produced and sponsored by Smith, Kline and French laboratories in cooperation with American Medical Association.

Filed by "The March of Medicine" television production team, in Lotombe, deep in the heart of the African Belgian Congo, the program will be presented over 75 stations of the NBC-TV network.

Specifically the program will chronicle the daily activities of Dr. John E. Ross who for the past eight years has served as a mission doctor in the Belgian Congo. A native of California and a graduate of the Indiana School of Medicine, he is a missionary of the Christian church and six years ago Rev. Glen Daugherty, pastor of the local Christian church, worked with him in Tennessee.

Dr. Ross spends 14 hours a day operating in native huts, traveling to distant bush clinics and caring for lepers in the leprosy hospital established soon after arriving in Africa.

This will be the second program in "The March of Medicine" series to explore the activities of medicine outside the United States. The first junket was made to Hiroshima, Japan, early last year to report on the effects of atomic radiation 10 years after the dropping of the A-bomb.

Mrs. Harry Border Installed As New President of District 29, Rebekahs

Approximately 180 Rebekahs were present at the district assembly meeting held in Harrisburg, Nov. 15, for the purpose of electing and installing officers for 1957.

Pride of Arrow Rebekah lodge No. 234 with Reba Burbank as noble grand was hostess.

Miss Ruby Barden of Eldorado, outgoing president of the district, was presented and escorted to her station by the vice grand, Anna Lee Christman, as Mable Porter, soloist, sang to her "I Would Be True."

Installing officers were Madge Johnson, past president of Rebekah State Assembly, installing officer; Maude Malone, past district president, marshal; Velma Hartwell, past district president, chaplain.

Officers elected and installed were Bessie Border, president; Leona Norris of Norris City, vice president; Julia Gray of Walpole, warden; Gladys Cox, Harrisburg, secretary; Gladys Pankey, Carrier Mills, treasurer.

As the president was escorted to her station a group of eight Rebekahs formed a semi-circle in the background, holding a large crescent moon and seven stars, the emblem of the order for 1957. Mable Porter sang "Have Thine Own Way, Lord." In the foreground an escort line of 14 Rebekahs who will serve as 1957 noble grands in their respective lodges held small moons and stars to form an archway as the president was taken to the East.

Assistant inside guardian, Iris Garner, Grayville; assistant outside guardian, Lillian Crosley, Junction; page, Lena Roper, Harrisburg; soloist, Marjory Harding, Harrisburg; soloist, Mable Porter, Harrisburg; representative to International Rebekah lodge, Anna Bower, Golconda; chairman of educational foundation, Georgia Patterson, Harrisburg; publicity chairman, Lolo Cox, Harrisburg; entertainment committee, a group from Carrier Mills, composed of Lea Travelstead, Freda Moake and Mildred Chaney.

After all appointments were made the president welcomed each one present and introduced her husband, Harry Border, and daughter, Grace. She acknowledged a telegram of congratulations from her son, Harry Eugene Border, and wife, who are stationed at Laredo, Texas, with the Air Force.

Mrs. Border then briefly outlined the year's work. The year will be known as the Gospel Year, the theme is thoughtfulness and the emblem is the moon and seven stars. Homes fund is the heart and hands fund, and scripture verse is Psalm 90:17.

Visitors were present from District 30 and 31 and 17 lodges were represented. The next district meeting will be held in Harrisburg April 26, 1957.

The hall was beautifully decorated with white covers and colorful flowers. Gifts were stacked high for all officers. The meeting was closed by the chaplain. All were invited to refreshments of punch and cookies.

In Memoriam
In loving memory of Nora Harris Hawks, who died one year ago, Nov. 24:
Her life was earnest,
Her actions kind.
A generous hand,
And an active mind.
Anxious to please, loathe to offend.
A loving sister and faithful daughter.
Sadly missed by her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Harris and sisters, Irene and Marie.

Day of the Outlaw

By Lee Wells
Copyright 1955, by Lee Wells. Distributed by NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: Jack Bruhn's outlaw pack holes up in Bitter, Wyo., isolated by mud during a thaw. One townsman has been killed, several manhandled and the outlaws have seized all the guns and ammunition, including the stock at the store operated by Vic Frazin. Bruhn meanwhile fears trouble in his own group because Tex Darrow wants to assume leadership.

Two women waited under the store canopy, heavy coats making both look shapeless. One was around 50, a grim-faced woman with gray hair that held no softness. Yet her deep brown eyes were strangely gentle and Gene instantly saw a likeness between her and the girl who stood beside her. His heart lifted at the sight of Ermine, as it had

Of Such is the Kingdom of God

Some people argue that the words of Christ imply that God's Kingdom belongs to children and not to adults. Indeed, there are some families whose worship habits suggest as much. The youngsters are bundled off to Sunday School; and the grown-ups stay home.

But Biblical scholars have long agreed that Christ's words point to the attitude, not the age, which is the mark of God's Kingdom.

The implicit faith, the humble acceptance, the eager yearning with which children approach Christ's teaching—these are the qualities which belong to God's Kingdom.

Perhaps we are foolishly infatuated with the notion that our children should follow in our footsteps. If we start them in the right direction, the direction of the Church, we may gain much more by following in theirs.

'The Prodigal Son'

Luke 15:11-24

GOLDEN TEXT: "He hath not dealt with us after our sins; nor rewarded us according to our iniquities. For as the heaven is high above the earth, so great is his mercy toward them that fear him." (Psalm 103:10-11)

INTRODUCTION:—Today we examine a portion of God's Word that strikes home to the heart of every right thinking individual. The events in the life of the "Prodigal Son" are real and meaningful, because everyone of us has at some time or another been the prodigal.

Every person is guilty of sin. The Bible declares that all are not only "born in sin and conceived in iniquity," but that all have sinned by choice.

Christ died on Calvary's Cross and became the sacrificial offering for the souls of men. In other words, God is willing to forgive the sins of all who will confess their sins and accept the sacrifice His Son made on Calvary, as a covering for their sins.

I THE PRODIGAL LEAVING HOME (V. 12-16)

He was dissatisfied at home. He misunderstood the restraints of home, and wanted to go to the far away country of riches and beauty he had heard about. One day he said good-by to dad and brother and home.

1. IN THE FAR AWAY COUNTRY. This represents the place of sin. Wherever you go into sin, you are in the far away country—away from God. You can go into this far away country, and never leave town.

2. HE WASTED HIS LIFE. "He wasted his substance in riotous living." Sin is always extravagant. It is the most costly thing on earth. You never sin but that it costs you more than it is worth. There is absolutely nothing good to be said for sin.

3. HE FOUND HIMSELF IN WANT. "There arose a famine in the land." Yes, if you leave God out, you will meet with famine—spiritual want.

II HE CAME TO HIMSELF (V. 17-19)

As long as he had money a group of would-be friends followed him. When his money was gone, so were these "friends." He finally wound up in the hog pen feeding

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Posts Bond on Charge at Marion

MARION, Ill. (U.P.)—J. E. Travelstead, 54, Marion, has posted $5,000 bond on an assault with intent to murder charge filed after three shots were fired at the owner of the Gospel Book Store.

Travelstead previously had filed a $50,000 alienation of affection suit against V. G. Buckner, owner of the book store. Travelstead's wife is employed by Buckner in the store.

Authorities said the shots were fired through a hole in a partition dividing the bookstore and a cleaning shop operated by Mrs. Buckner, who has filed for divorce.

Authorities said Travelstead claims he fired the shots "to scare" Buckner, who was not hit.

Walrus got their name from Norse sailors, who called them "hvalross," whale horse.

Ag Department Reports Farm Income Up; Expect '57 Increase

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Agriculture Department said today net farm income for this year is up slightly from 1955 in the first increase since 1951. It forecast another gain for 1957.

The department discussed the farm income outlook in generalized terms in its publication, "The Agricultural Outlook Digest." Specific figures and forecasts for 1957 will be released later in the year.

It said the keys to farm income for next year are strong demand from consumers, increasing shipments of farm products abroad, the soil bank, and reduced hog marketings. It made these forecasts:

Consumer income in 1957 will

Illinois Share of Base Corn Acreage 8,011,861 Acres

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—The Agriculture Department has announced Illinois' share in the national base acreage and national acreage allotments for the 1957 corn crop.

Farmers will vote in a referendum Dec. 11 whether to accept the national base acreage program provided in the soil bank law, or the traditional national acreage allotment program.

Under the base acreage program, Illinois' share would be 8,011,861 acres. The national figure would be about 51 million acres.

If farmers put a percentage of their farmland in the soil bank and comply with other requirements, they would be eligible for a support price of $1.31 a bushel or 74 percent of parity.

Under the national acreage allotment program, farmers would be allowed to plant a total of nearly 37,300,000 acres. The Illinois farmers' share would be 5,857,969.

Price supports under this program would be $1.36 a bushel.

The acreage allotment for 1957 would be 16 percent under the amount allotted this year.

Get Clipped Oats Off Your Legumes

If you clipped your oats to qualify the acreage for soil bank payments, you'll need to get the straw off the field so that it will not smother the legume seedling.

You can't use the oats for feeding, but you can use them for mulch. The University of Illinois College of Agriculture says that you can either burn the clippings or make compost to be hauled back to the fields later.

Or you can use a beater that will shred the stalks so fine that they won't smother the legumes.

Clip as high as your mower will let you—four inches if possible, the agronomists suggest. Then you'll clip off the least legume.

Alfalfa can stand some clipping, but it will be harder on red clover. Only farmers who have planted their corn base are eligible to use oats in this way for the soil bank program. Such underplanted acreage of corn plus corn otherwise disposed of must meet the minimum requirement.

In this event you can place one acre of oats in the acreage reserve for each acre by which you have underplanted your corn base. But there can be absolutely no harvest or further pasturing of these acres during 1956.

To avoid any error, always check your plans with your county ASC committee before you destroy any crop. County ASC committees are in charge of the program, and that office will make all payments.

Legislative Group To Recommend Two New Prisons

SPRINGFIELD (UP)—A legislative commission will recommend that the 70th General Assembly authorize construction of two new Illinois penal institutions to ease the pressure on state prisons.

The commission, assigned to study state institutions by the 1955 Legislature, announced its recommendations in its report to Gov. William G. Stratton Friday.

The commission urged construction of a new facility in the Chicago area for the care of psychopathic felons, and another state penal farm in southern Illinois.

The proposed Chicago unit would be similar to the facilities at Menard Prison for the criminally insane; the prison farm for felons similar to the existing State Penal Farm at Vandalia.

The commission report said if a serious slump should occur in the nation's economy, accompanied by a rise in the crime rate, existing state penal institutions would be unable to meet the need.

TWO MOUTHS TO FEED—Apparently believing that two heads are better than one, this Hereford calf sticks them both in a feeding trough and chomps contentedly. Its owner, Arnold Ray-buck of Bradenton, Fla., bought the freak animal in North Carolina and plans to put it on exhibition.

SIU Country Column

By Albert Meyer

The problem of keeping up egg production from small farm laying flocks often is aggravated by bad weather during the winter season. Additional precautions are necessary to keep the flock healthy and well fed during this period when there is less sunshine and the weather more often is damp and cold. For commercial producers with large flocks this may present fewer problems than for the smaller producer because of better poultry housing facilities and more labor-saving devices.

Winter feed rations need to be fortified with vitamins—which are more available naturally in summer—if the birds are to remain healthy and keep up egg production. Vitamin D supplement needs to be added to the ration to compensate for reduced solar irradiation during the shorter, less sunny days of winter. Such vitamin D-rich food substances as fish liver oils or irradiated animal steers will fill the need.

Alfalfa leaf meal is a good source of vitamin A which is essential to poultry health in winter when the chickens cannot be on range to obtain it from green grass and legumes. Adding 10 pounds of dehydrated alfalfa leaf meal to 100 pounds of laying mash is considered about right. Yellow corn as a scratch feed the mash is a good ration.

Milton Y. Dendy, SIU poultry specialist, says that it may be wise to fortify rations for layer and breeder flocks with antibiotics during winter months to help keep the birds healthy.

If neck molt—a loss of feathers around the neck—shows up in the laying flock, it is a good indication that the hens are not getting enough light. Poultry flocks need 13 or 14 hours of light daily to stay in good production. Therefore artificial lighting is needed in the poultry house in winter to give the hens the proper length working day.

Forty-watt lamps in 15-inch cone-shaped reflectors, placed at 10-foot intervals about six feet above the floor in a long laying house will give good results. One lamp takes care of about 200 square feet of floor space. In stalling an automatic timer to turn the poultry house lights on and off at specified times is not too expensive. It will provide regularity and save much time for the farmer. It is most desirable to have the artificial lights on during early morning hours.

Inadequate ventilation always is a winter problem for many flock owners. Laying hens need to be comfortable. Ventilation of the laying house without direct draft on the hens is essential to health. When the poultry house is closed in winter, the farmer should watch for the odor of ammonia fumes. If these develop, it is a sign of improper ventilation, Dendy says.

The odor of ammonia comes from excessive litter moisture. Using deep litter and stirring it occasionally while using good ventilation practices with windows or other types of ventilation will help solve the problem.

Broody hens are a problem in winter as well as in summer. Keep an eye open for them and put the offenders in the coop at the first sign of broodiness so that they will be cured and returned to production as soon as possible. Four or five days in the broody coop with plenty of light, feed and water to keep the birds in good physical condition usually will cure broodiness.

How to Figure Cost of Producing A Dozen Eggs

Wondering whether your laying flock is making money? You can't tell unless you have some idea what it's costing you to produce a dozen eggs, says Don Bray, University of Illinois poultry specialist.

Bray points out that you can get a rough estimate of your feed cost per dozen eggs by dividing your laying house feed bill (including farm grains at market price) by the total dozen of eggs produced. You should not include feed for raising replacement pullets, but you should include the eggs your family uses.

For example, suppose your total bill for farm grains, poultry concentrate, grit and oyster shell for a 500-hen flock amounts to $1,600. Your hens produce 8,000 dozen eggs during the laying season. So your feed cost per dozen would be $1600 divided by 8,000, or 20 cents a dozen.

But Bray points out that your cost will vary with rate of lay, size of bird and cost of feed. He also feels that you'll get more reliable figures by calculating your feed cost over a whole laying season than for just a short run. Feed is only one cost of producing eggs. Studies by the University department of agricultural economics show that feed makes up only about half of the total cost of producing a dozen eggs. Labor, overhead, death loss and depreciation on flock, buildings and equipment make up the other half.

Galatia, Herrin Play Tonight in Tourney Final

Harrisburg Drops 71-70 Contest In Semifinal

Galatia and Herrin will meet at 8:30 tonight for the championship of the Galatia Independent basketball tournament. They won their way into the title game by winning from Murphysboro and Harrisburg in semifinal games Friday night. The games are being played in the Galatia high school gym.

At 7 p. m. today the tourney consolation game, featuring Harrisburg and Murphysboro, will be played. Three trophies are to be awarded.

The opening semifinal game, Harrisburg vs. Herrin, proved to be the tourney's best to date, with Herrin finally winning 71-70.

At the start of the game Harrisburg jumped into a ten point lead and made it stand until the second quarter. Then Herrin guard Otey began to connect on long shots to get his team back in the game. From then on the game saw a saw-tooth pattern in the final wire, Herrin holding on for a one-point win.

Harrisburg's Dalton was his team's play maker and also topped the scoring with 27 points. Taylor and Oment were outstanding in the rebounding department. For Herrin Smith and Norton played fine floor games and Norton paced the attack with 19 points.

Galatia took an early lead from Murphysboro and never was headed, winning by a score of 70-58.

Cherry and Melvin, Galatia guards, hit well from outside and Peyton was big man on the backboards.

Valier and Koenig paced Murphysboro's floor game and Götway was top scorer.

The scoring—Herrin: Young 7, Smith 15, Otey 18, Grey 10, Russell 2 and Norton 19; Harrisburg: Taylor 18, Oment 7, Killebrew 13, Dalton 27, Riegel 4 and Hayes 1; Galatia: Higgins 4, Fowler 2, Pulliam 17, Melvin 21, Cherry 16 and Peyton 10; Murphysboro: Götway 16, Rose 3, Etherton 12, Valier 11, Crain 6 and Koenig 10.

Mount Vernon, Paris, Robinson Win Cage Tilts

By United Press
Paris, Robinson and Charleston won their first Eastern Illinois Conference games Friday night as some of the larger schools went into action for the first time in the prep basketball season.

Paris outgunned Kansas 71-54, Charleston was too much for Westfield, 70-49, and Robinson beat Hutsonville 54-37.

Three Big Eight teams played their first non-conference tilts and came home with victories in two of them. Elgin, highly regarded in pre-season figuring, jolted Arlington Heights 77-60, and Freeport beat South Beloit, Wis., 66-37. Aurora West lost to Glenbard 53-49.

Oak Park's Huskies, one of last season's Sweet Sixteen teams, got off on the right foot this season with an 81-73 triumph over La Grange.

Mount Vernon slammed Fairfield 76-32. Flora's Wolves turned back Louisville 58-42. Princeton beat Monmouth 58-36.

Hillsboro and Vandalia, both of the Midstate Conference, scored victories in non-league openers, Hillsboro dumping Jerseyville 61-39, and Vandalia pasting Sandoval 72-47.

In the northwest area, Moline stopped Rock Island Alton 67-62, and Rock Island beat York 73-56.

Shawneetown Wins Close 60-58 Tilt at Grayville

Shawneetown broke into the winning column last night at Grayville, winning a close one, 60-58.

The winners got away to a fast start, building up a 21-8 quarter lead and was out in front 42-24 at half time. Then, with Stewart out of the game, Shawneetown's offense bogged down in the third quarter, accounting for only three points and Grayville pulled to within a point, 45-44 at the three-quarter mark.

Shawneetown was hampered by the limited play of Shell, hobbling on an injured ankle, suffered at Rosiclare earlier in the week.

Grayville took the preliminary, 34-33.

Scoring: Shawneetown—Stewart 24, Cutrell 9, Cox 7, Nolen 13, Gossett 7, Shell 0, Jennings 0; Grayville: R. Lingafelter 4, Lewis 8, Edwards 24, L. Lingafelter 6, Crocker 6, Wilson 10.

Dorrisville, Galatia, Muddy Win Midget Tilts

Twenty-five points proved to be unlucky in Midget conference basketball play this week, with each of the losing teams scoring 25 points.

Dorrisville, only unbeaten team in the conference, beat Muddy 44-25; Ridgway won from Broughton 41-25 and Galatia defeated Raleigh 40-25.

This week's schedule: Broughton vs. Raleigh, Galatia vs. Dorrisville, Muddy vs. Ridgway.

Ortega Wins Split Decision Over Tony De Marco

NEW YORK (UP)—Amazing young Gaspar Ortega of Mexico and Tony De Marco, the chagrined ex-welterweight champion from Boston, will be rematched for another TV 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden, Dec. 21, because of the dispute over Gaspar's upset victory Friday night.

Unranked Ortega, a lanky, 21-year old Indian from Mexicali, Mex., was a 5-1 underdog when he entered the Garden ring Friday night; but he registered his second shocking upset within six weeks by winning a split decision over stocky De Marco, top contender.

On Oct. 17, rugged Ortega outpointed fourth-ranked Isaac Logart of Cuba at Boston. Logart was favored at 4-1.

Ortega not only out-boxed De Marco at long range but he actually out-fought the more explosive ex-champion at close quarters to win the votes of Referee Al Beri, 63-1, and Judge Jack Gordon, 54-1. However, Judge Frank Forbes favored De Marco, 6-4.

Miami Blanks W. Virginia, 18-0

MIAMI (UP)—Miami's sixth-ranked Hurricanes laid claim today to the nation's ground defense title after handing West Virginia its first shutout in 55 games, 18-0, before 37,073 fans in the Orange Bowl.

Miami's fast line permitted West Virginia's ball carrier a net of only 45 yards. And the Hurricane linebackers grabbed off four of quarterback Mickey Trimark's passes to boost their total interceptions to 17 for the season.

Miami was stopped within the 10-yard line three times in the first half by the bulky Mountaineers, scoring only on halfback Ed Oliver's 16-yard field goal. But passes paid off with two touchdowns.

Receives $5,000 Court Award

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (UP)—Shortstop Lyle Luttrell of the Chattanooga Lookouts won $5,000 damages in a circuit court today for injuries he suffered in a fight with Nashville catcher Earl Averill in 1955.

Luttrell suffered a broken jaw and loss of several teeth when struck by Averill in a game on Aug. 20, 1955. He asked $50,000 in his suit but was awarded only compensatory damages.

Luttrell said in the suit that he was unable to play for the remainder of the 1955 season, thereby losing about $600, but that his real loss was that he failed to win a berth with the Washington Senators in 1956. He hit .324 for Chattanooga this year.

U. S. Takes Lead in Olympics With 100 Points to Russia's 78

By LEO H. PETERSEN
MELBOURNE (UP)—The United States stormed into the lead over Russia in the Olympic Games today by winning four more gold medals. The U. S. victories were in the 100-meter dash, broad jump and hammer throw and a clean sweep in the 400-meter hurdles led by Glenn Davis of Ohio State.

Amassing a total of 65 points in track and field events, the Yanks jumped from fourth place to first in the unofficial team standings. Davis bagged the hurdles in record time, Harold Connolly of Boston nailed the hammer medal with a record toss, Bobby Morrow of San Benito, Tex., won the 100 meters and Greg Bell of Bloomington, Ind., sailed to victory in the broad jump despite a pulled leg muscle.

In addition, the favored American basketball team swamped little Thailand, 101-29, and Russia's European champions were upset by France, 76-67.

Igorj Rybak and Raviel Khaboudinov of Russia finished 1-2 in the lightweight weight-lifting class as Rybak set a new Olympic snatch lift record of 264.56 pounds but Norman Read of New Zealand scored an upset in the 50,000-kilometer walk by winning by nearly two minutes over Russia's favored Eugene Maskinkov.

At the end of the afternoon program, the United States had a total of 100 points to 78 for Russia, with Germany third at 44 1-2. The only other event up for decision tonight was middleweight weight-lifting in which the United States was favored.

110,000 Witness Competition

The Star Spangled Banner echoed and re-echoed through the vast Melbourne Cricket Club Stadium as the fired-up Americans stepped to the victory stand for their medals amid the cheers of 110,000 spectators.

They grabbed the three places in the hurdles; first, second and fourth in the 100 meters; first and second in the broad jump and first and fourth in the hammer.

Davis, with Eddie Southern, of Dallas and Josh Culbreath of Norristown, Pa., flying at his heels, set a new Olympic record of 50.1 for the 400-meter hurdles, biting deeply into the Olympic mark of 50.8 set at Helsinki four years ago by Charles Moore of Cornell.

Connolly, husky Boston school teacher, hurled the hammer 207 feet 3 1-2 inches to a new Olympic record as he bested Russia's world champion Mikhail Krivosov. The first five finishers all topped the old record of 197 feet 11 1/4 inches set in 1952 by Jozsef Csermak of Hungary, who finished fifth today behind Al Hall of Hoboken, N. J.

Morrow won the 100 meters in a final so close the judges had to call for a photo to determine the other placings. Thane Baker of Elkhart, Kan., second in the 200-meter final four years ago, was second to Bullet Bobby, and Ira Murchison of Chicago was fourth behind Australia's Hector Hogan.

North Dakota Man Second
Bell, a solid favorite in the broad jump, pulled a leg muscle on the second of his six jumps but that one was a leap of 25 feet 8 1-2 inches and good enough to win so he declined his last two allotted jumps.

John Bennett of Grand Forks, N. D., was second with 25 feet 2 1-4 inches and Johma Valkama of Finland was third. A third U. S. entry, Rafer Johnson, decided not to compete in order to conserve strength for the decathlon in which he is the strong favorite.

In addition to the four championships won today, the U. S. set up another possible 1-2-3 sweep in Monday's 800-meter final when Tom Courtney of Livingston, N. J., Arnold Sowell of Pittsburgh and Lon Spurrier of Delano, Calif., all qualified with ease.

But it was a different story in women's track where the only U. S. qualifier for Monday's 100-meter dash final was Isabelle Daniels of Jakin, Ga.
